March 29, 2018 (DUBUQUE, IA) – The Dubuque Museum of Art \(DuMA\) announced today it will partner with Quad Cities-based Living Proof Exhibit on a regional juried exhibition featuring works of art by cancer survivors and patients.

Living Proof Exhibit, which provides the therapeutic benefits of the arts to people impacted by cancer, is seeking entries for its annual exhibition to be held from September 6–December 9, 2018 in the Mary Waterman Gildehaus Community Gallery at the Figge Art Museum in Davenport.

The exhibit will then travel to Dubuque and the DuMA, where it will be on display from January 11 to March 17, 2019.

A Call to Entry is now available. All cancer survivors or patients within a 200-mile radius of the Quad-Cities, including Greater Dubuque, are eligible and may submit up to five (5) works for consideration. Entries must be received by June 15, 2018. Complete submission details are available at www.livingproofexhibit.org.

Past Living Proof exhibits have been displayed at the Cedar Rapids Museum of Art, the Figge Art Museum, and in Peoria, Illinois.

"This exhibition, A Visualization of Hope, is a celebration of the creative spirit of the cancer survivor," said Pamela Crouch, executive director of Living Proof Exhibit. "We have shown sculpture, painting, crochet and photography to name just a few mediums. This is a wonderful opportunity to showcase how art impacts health, and that spirit shines through each piece."

For information about the exhibition and full call to entry, please visit www.livingproofexhibit.org or email livingproofexhibit@gmail.com.

About the Dubuque Museum of Art

The Dubuque Museum of Art (DuMA), founded in 1874 and accredited by the American Alliance of Museums in 2004, is Iowa's oldest cultural institution. Named a national affiliate of the Smithsonian Institution in 2016, DuMA's mission is to excite, engage and serve diverse communities within the Tri-State area through our collections, exhibitions and educational programs. We connect generations of people to their cultural heritage and exceptional art.

DuMA is located across from Washington Park in historic downtown Dubuque at 7th and Locust Streets. Museum hours are Tuesday–Friday 10:00 A.M.-5:00 P.M., Saturday & Sunday 1:00 P.M.-4:00 P.M. The museum is closed on Mondays. Daily admission rates are: $6 Adults, $5 Seniors, and $3 College/University Students. The museum is free on Thursdays, and those 18 and younger receive free admission every day, thanks to Prudential Financial.
